Import of Films Devoid of Sex and Violence

3528. SHRI RAJNI RANJAN SAHU : Will the Minister of INFORMATION AND BROADCASTING be pleased to state :

(a) whether Government's attention has been drawn to the statement of internationally renowned film maker Ismail Merchant wherein he has urged Government to encourage import of films devoid of sex and violence;

(b) what is the number of films imported during the last two years and what is the number of films which contained such explicit scenes and violence;

(c) what are the reasons for allowing import of such films; and

(d) what measures Government would propose to exercise stricter censorship on such imports ?

THE MINISTER OF STATE OF IHF MINISTRY OF INFORMATION AND BROADCASTING (SHRI K. P. SINGH DEO) : (a) Government have seen the news item.

(b) All films, whether Indian or foreign, intended for public exhibition in India are presented for certification to the Central Board of Film Certification. The films thus presented do contain scenes of sex and violence. However, such material in these films as is found objectionable in lerms of the guidelines issued by Government for certification of films is deleted before certificates arc issued and in cases where the objectionable impact cannot be removed even by deletions, the films are refused certificates. Thus, the number of imported feature films certified by the Board during calender years 1991 and 1992 is as follows :—

Number of imported feature films certified in	1991	1992
Clear 'U' certificate	21	16
'U' certificate with cuts	19	4
Clear 'UA' certificate	6	9
'UA' certificate with cuts	4	3
Clear 'A' certificate	17	20
'A' certificate with cuts	57	28
Total :	124	80

The total length of objectionable material deleted from imported feature films is 2096 metres in 1991 and 1187 metres in 1992. Majority of the deletions relate to vulgarity, obscenity and violenee. The certifying authority refused certificates at one stage or the other in respect of 14 imported feature films in 1991 and 4 such films in 1992. Some of them have been certified either in their subsequent revised versions or on the orders of the Film Certification Appellate Tribunal.

(c) and (d) Till 1991-92 the import of feature films was canalised through the National Film Development Corporation Limited. According to the new import policy, effective from 1992-93, import of foreign feature films can be made without a licence by importers other than National Film Archive of India, Film and Television Institute of India and Children's Film Society of India provided the importer has obtained from the Administrative Officer. Central Board of Film Certification, a certificate to the effect that the film has :—

(a) won an award in any of the International Film Festivals notified by the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting; or

(b) participated in any of the official sections of the notified International Film Festivals; or

(c) received good reviews in prestigious film journals notified by the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting.

Thus, only film which satisfy the above "quality" criterion can be imported even after liberalisation of imports. A clear-cut position will emerge only after this new policy is allowed to operate for some more time.
